

George Pleat Guitar Studio Covid-19 Policy

Revised 05/20/21

Because of the current Pandemic, the George Pleat Guitar Studio (Studio) is providing options for students to take guitar lessons in-person, by zoom, or a combination of both. *The teacher, George Pleat, is fully vaccinated. If the student is fully vaccinated, the Covid-19 protocols below do not apply -- pre-pandemic Studio policies will be in effect.

In-person lessons, if student is not fully vaccinated

- lesson will be in the basement Studio
- chairs, music/guitar stands, and footstools will be sanitized prior to student entry
- In the basement Studio, after entry, students must wash hands with available soap or sanitizer
- during the lesson
 - The student and teacher must wear a mask at all times
 - be socially distant 6 feet
 - teacher will remain at a safe distance while in teaching process
 - students may access the rest room, mask required.
 - lessons will be limited to a maximum 1 hour
- The Studio follows the Maryland State health guidelines regarding the Covid-19

Zoom lessons

- zoom lessons will be provided by the Studio upon student request, at the same lesson fee as in-person
- the teacher will provide a zoom invite link stating the day and time of the lesson.
- The student is responsible for their equipment necessary to participate
- the Studio strongly encourages (if possible) that the student pursues at least one in-person lesson per month in combination with weekly zoom lessons.

Note: The above Covid-19 policy applies to anybody entering the George Pleat Guitar Studio.
